

2018 in America

1. Our violet hills of splendor bleed with the avarice of myopia.
But then again... Netflix.
2. Violence belies powerlessness and shame.
Cry. Breathe. Stand up.
3. Fit is the new skinny, but the sugar and yo-yo diet industrial complex smells so very sweet.
4. Simultaneously shouting “Believe survivors. Condemn aggressors. Repeat.” and “Pics or it didn’t happen!”
promotes rape culture.
5. Globalizing xenophobia is not effective diplomatic strategy.
6. Unfettered celebration, education and medication:
none should be reserved for the one percent.
7. Dream so big the Venture Capitalists can see a return on investment, or don’t dream at all.
8. Painkillers dull pain but kill patients. Can’t we do better?
